

PENCILLETS.

Chow. Jackson's Best Sweet Navy Tobacco.

The effects of the recent rains begin already to be visible on the market supplies. Yesterday there was an unusually full market.

The Street Railway Company now hold one of their cars every night to meet the 11 o'clock train at night, and get frequent custom therefrom.

The Monroe Democrat is authority for the statement that a farmer near Sweetwater has a cucumber vine which has had 180 cucumbers on it this season.

Decidedly the best shower of the season visited us yesterday evening. It was a regular distiller-filler and gutter-cleanser, and has given Knoxville a wonderful lift.

Market Master McCampbell has had a convenient shed erected over the city scales, which will serve as a protection from the weather for both scales and weigher.

Wonder now if we won't have too much rain, that it has set in. We are always complaining though, and never satisfied, which should not be, for providential provision will be made, we may rest assured.

Nashville American: Warden Blichard has determined to admit no visitors from Memphis into the Penitentiary. Neither will any prisoners from the infected district be allowed to be brought to that institution.

Our young friend W. H. Hyden, son of Rev. J. Albert Hyden, now a resident of Wichita City, Kansas, has our thanks for late papers and documents, which indicate that Wichita City is a flourishing place.

Rev. E. J. Hyatt has sold out the Whitesburg Times to a joint stock company, and it is to be removed to Morristown. Capt. S. J. Couch continues as editor. It is likely to be suspended a week or two on account of the removal.

The work of laying the foundation has been commenced for a brick two-story building, about 30x40, on the McMillan property, in rear of Lyons and McCampbell's drug store. It is to front on Clinch street, and to be converted into law offices. Martin Woody is doing the brick work, with John Ellis as foreman.

According to the Loudon Journal, R. McGaughey, of Monroe county, took his little son, about three years old into the field with him a few days since, and left him asleep under a tree, but upon returning the little fellow could not be found. It was supposed a bear which had been seen in the neighborhood had carried it off, and a vigorous search was instituted.

More Failures.

We can scarcely pick up a newspaper but we find in it an account of the failure of some business firm or person. The columns of "deaths" show how many failures there are in the efforts of physicians to cure, but the papers do not speak of Dr. Hart's Antibilious Discovery to cure biliousness, &c., in any case he properly used. It is not a failure.

Personal.

Miss Lou Krutch and Miss Mary Welcker and Mr. Oscar Krutch returned home yesterday from a visit to friends at Kingston.

Among the departures for Montvale yesterday evening, we noticed Mr. H. V. Booth and family, of Vicksburg, Miss.; and Mr. John L. Hudiburg and daughter, Miss Fannie, Capt. Collett, Mr. W. E. Williams, Mr. Robt. Duennier and others, of this city.

Mr. John McGuire, a prominent business man of Atlanta, who has been spending a few weeks at Tate's, is in the city, the guest of Prof. J. H. Hjams.

Our jovial friend Mr. "Bob" Adkins is in the city. He has just returned from Boston, where he purchased a large and elegant stock of boots, shoes, and hats, to be shipped to Atlanta, where he intends going into business. We commend him to our neighbors of the "Gate City," and wish him abundant success.

Admired by All.

Every person who has used Dr. Price's Unique Perfumes admire them. His Pet Rose is charming—the fragrance of sweet blossoms; his Evening Violet delicately delightful—the odor of dainty buds; while his Floral Riches surpass in rich, fresh, flowery odor any Cologne or toilet water ever made.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following are the real estate transfers registered in the office of the County Court Clerk, during the past week:

The Strawberry Plains Difficulty.

Our latest information from Strawberry Plains yesterday was that Anthony King, the negro who was knocked in the head with an axe by his fellow-workman, Ben Steadman, Friday, in a difficulty about some molasses, the particulars of which we gave, was still alive, but very little hopes of his final recovery.

The following is a description of Ben Steadman, the negro who dealt the blow: He is about 19 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches high, heavy set, tolerably black, and weighs about 165 pounds. He wore brown overalls, a striped cotton shirt, broad-brimmed straw hat, and left in his shirt sleeves. His home is Gainesville, Ga.

We understand he was seen passing through Knoxville Friday, but no one had a description of him. He was making it down the country alone. If any one should run across him they will please notify Sheriff Reader.

From Scott County.

A correspondent writing us from the 7th district of Scott county, under date of 22nd inst., says:

In this neighborhood, ever since the 4th of July, we have had a good season. The corn crop looks well, oats tolerably good, Irish potatoes nearly a failure, wheat crop good. On the night of the 11th of June some one set fire to the fence of Dennis Trammell, United States Commissioner, and on the 10th of July his large double stable was also fired. There were two fine mules in the stable, and each upper story full of oats. All was burned up and one of the mules roasted in the flames. The other broke open the door and escaped. It is believed some of the illicit whisky ring did the mischief.

We have removed our

Drug Store to the Southeast corner of Gay and Clinch streets.

Public Speaking at New Market.

NEW MARKET, TENN., July 25.

MR. EDITOR: Please announce through your columns that Hon. R. R. Butler, of Taylorville, will address the people of New Market, Thursday, July 31st, at 1 o'clock p. m., on the State debt. Judge Butler is a man of extensive information, a forcible speaker, and is too well and favorably known, as such, in this county, to require any extended notice to secure a large crowd. But to those of our citizens who claim that they do not understand the reason for the debt, and who wish to be voted upon on the 7th of August, we would especially extend the invitation to come out and hear him discuss this important subject.

Respectfully, S. M. DYER.

Invitation to Refugees.

GREENEVILLE, TENN., July 25.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to visit a portion of our State with a scourge, and as the wings of the Destroying Angel are once more spread over the ill-fated city of Memphis and vicinity, be it known that we extend toward our fellow-creatures our heart-felt sympathy, and in proof thereof, we will open our doors to such as are fleeing from the pestilence, and will extend such hospitality, at reasonable rates, as we are able to furnish.

Signed: T. J. Lane, R. L. Dobson, Lewis F. Bell, Chas. P. Baker, John J. Mitchell, Isaac O. Harrell, R. J. Snapp, W. D. Culver, Mrs. L. Maloney, B. H. Patterson, Mrs. M. J. Paterson, B. J. McCorkle, L. B. Good, John A. Maloney, N. J. Dickson, Wm. T. Mitchell, W. A. Dickinson, H. Harper, Thos. Maloney, Mrs. Sallie J. Harrell, M. S. Sue Brumley, Mrs. Kate Yost, S. V. McCorkle.

Distressing Symptoms.

In the stomach and bowels may announce the existence either of dyspepsia in the first or an obstruction in the second, or the approach of some chronic complaint, or simply dyspepsia, Colic, bilious or constipation, a pressing down of the bowels, a feeling of oppression or fluttering at the pit of the stomach, are among these unpleasant symptoms. They and their cause are speedily remedied by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a single wine glassful often causing an immediate cessation of pain. When the difficulty continues, it is only necessary to persevere the use of this standard carminative and anti-dyspeptic medicine to obtain entire and permanent relief. Nothing in the composition of Hostetter's Bitters is in the slightest degree objectionable. Medical men pronounce it eminently pure.

Yellow Fever Notes.

According to telegrams received here from Superintendent Grant, of the M. & C. Railroad, trains to and from Memphis on that line will no longer run into Memphis, but will make Grand Junction their stopping place. An accommodation train will go into Memphis from there when necessary.

Mail Agent Harvey Wayland, who runs from Chattanooga to Memphis, now takes his lay overs in Knoxville, with his family. The other boys of that line have to look out elsewhere, Chattanooga won't feed and bed them.

It seems to be the understanding that no railroads at all are to be distributed in Memphis this time, but are to be taken out to the camp where all the needy people should be removed. This is right.

Memphis Ledger, Thursday evening: "The Knights of Honor have lost five persons since the yellow fever broke out. This will cause the necessary disbursement of $10,000 to the families of the deceased. The Knights are now sending their remaining members with their families out of the city, and they pay their passage and provide funds to feed them."

Nashville established quarantine against Memphis and all other infected districts Thursday. Quarantine stations were located on all approaching lines, ten or twelve miles out of the city, and no one from infected districts are allowed to pass without inspection.

Regulations at Montvale.

MONTVALE SPRINGS, July 25th, 1879.

To our Guests and Any One Contemplating a Visit to Montvale:

We learn there is a feeling of uneasiness existing in regard to the Memphians who are at Montvale, or from others who may arrive directly from the yellow fever city, and we learn that several of our guests who have been leaving have done so on this account. We know of a large number of persons of different parts of the South who would have been with us now, (and who still desire to come)—but for the fear of coming in contact with persons directly from Memphis. To all such, we say, that in justice to ourselves, it is our duty to say, that we have no persons here that have been exposed to the fever and have been out of Memphis more than ten days; we do not expect any arrivals directly from Memphis, and if such persons should come to Montvale, we will give them rooms outside the grounds until a sufficient time shall have elapsed to make it perfectly safe to put them in the hotel, or in cottages, inside the grounds. But, as we said before, we do not anticipate such arrivals, as we shall have from this time on, guests in Knoxville, whose duty it shall be to see all parties from the South arriving in Knoxville, whose duty it shall be to see all parties from the South arriving in Knoxville, to see that they are not coming from Memphis, or any other infected district, before they are allowed to come to Montvale, and that they are not coming from Memphis, or any other infected district, before they are allowed to come to Montvale, and that they are not coming from Memphis, or any other infected district, before they are allowed to come to Montvale.

For ourselves, we know there can be no danger at Montvale that exists in Knoxville, or at the different stations along the line of railroad, in East Tennessee, where there are being unloaded almost daily parties from one hundred Memphians, directly from the infected district, and we hope our Knoxville friends, as well as others, will give this matter full consideration and not act hastily in leaving Montvale, or in making up their minds not to come, for we answer you, there is not the least particle of danger here, not near as much as in Knoxville, or along the line of railroads at stations.
